A Pennsylvania letter, of Dec. 15th, reports both the Alabama and Tuscaloosa at St. Catharines, on Nov. 20th.

They were refused supplies and ordered off at the request of the American Consul. As regards the Alabama the letter must be mistaken.

From Canada.

Quebec, Canada, Jan. 25th.

Marshall Kane and thirteen Confederates, mostly escaped officers from Johnson Island, left here today for Halifax.

From Arkansas.

Fenn, Jan. 25th.

Little Rock advices to the 19th, state that the Convention which assembled on the 15th, has almost completed its labors. The greater portion of the State was represented. An article forever prohibiting slavery was adopted; only one dissenting vote. A Constitution is to be submitted to the people on the second Monday in March, at which time State officers and members of the Legislature are to be elected. The action of the Convention was universally satisfactory to loyal men. The qualification of voters is that proscribed by the President's proclamation. Loyal citizens say they will be able to poll twenty thousand votes for the Constitution.

Exploit of Col. Palmer.

Chicago, Jan. 26th.

A Nashville telegram of Saturday, says: A Federal train, with a guard consisting of six companies of the 15th Pennsylvania, was captured 25 miles east of Knoxville on the 14th. As soon as the news was received, Col. Palmer, at the head of a brigade of Union cavalry, was sent in pursuit. In a few hours he overtook the enemy and recaptured the wagons and killed and wounded a hundred and fifty rebels. So complete was the rout that anything like a regular pursuit was impossible, as the fugitive rebels fled to the mountains, each man taking care of himself. Upon Palmer's attack, the rebels, which they had not been relieved and sent their way through, all escaping. It was in this fight that the rebel Maj. Gen. Vance, was captured.

Important Order.

Louisville, Jan. 26th.

Major Gen. Foster has issued an order prohibiting the distribution of green notes the limit of the Department of Ohio.

Vallandigham's Case.

New York, Jan. 25.

Washington specialists say that the point raised by Judge in Vallandigham's case, in the Supreme Court, is that the military commission has no authority to try a citizen, having no jurisdiction, except over persons of the military and naval service. Holt submitted a written argument in opposition to the view. The Court has reserved its decision.

The President's Views of the Condition of Arkansas.

Washington, 25.

The President's letter of instructions to Gen. Steele, in regard to an election in Arkansas, says: That it is to be assumed at said election, and thenceforth, that the constitution and laws of the State as before rebellion are in full force, except that the constitution is so modified as to declare there shall be no slavery nor involuntary servitude, except for punishment of crimes. But the General Assembly may make such provisions for the freed people as shall recognize their permanent freedom, and provide for their education, and which may yet be considered a temporary arrangement with their present condition as a laboring, landless and homeless class.

From Richmond.

On Sunday, Jan. 25th.

The Richmond Enquirer of the 11th, advises the public that general orders have been prepared in the Adj. Gen's office, and will be issued in a few days, for the immediate conscription of persons who furnished substitutes. They will be put in camps of instruction within ten days.

The Savannah Republican of the 13th says: A flutter is created here by this law, the most interesting papers on record, and will cause an extensive stampede to the north and other foreign parts, by gentlemen who have been engaged in trade.

The Richmond correspondent of the Columbia (Ga.) Sun has it, from a trustworthy source, that one of the designs in abolishing the exemptions by substitutes, was to get rid of certain editors and obnoxious to the authorities.

The Examiner of the 12th says: The Senate, yesterday, passed the bill putting in the army all who have furnished substitutes. This will curtail the effective working force of the Virginia railroads, whose executive officers can now hardly keep them in good running order, by all the means at their command. All the Virginia railroad iron is nearly worn out and so are the men working them.

The Examiner of the 13th, says: The loss of our beef raising territory of West Missouri has reduced the supply of this article, and the most vigorous measures are needed to keep the troops in meat. Great economy is necessary in case our supply is cut off.

The Sentinel says alarming signs of trouble in North Carolina. Speaking of the papers of that State, it says those located at Raleigh, rarely fail to publish every gloomy article and intemperate accusation against the Government which appears anywhere. Their editorials indicate the same sentiments as their selections. It contains frequent denunciations against secessionists for prolonging the war for no cause whatever, and indulge in ceaseless accusations that North Carolina is not fairly treated. Coupled with these they have almost daily editorials over the horrors of war, and the poor promise of our affairs.

Kansas.

St. Louis, Jan. 26th.

Resolutions nominating Abraham Lincoln for President passed the Kansas Legislature, unanimously.

Foreign.

Havre, Jan. 25th.

Fennos, Jan. 25th.

The London Morning Advertiser states on the best authority, that Garibaldi disavows the recent Proclamation, and that it is a forgery.
